PERSONAL.

Miss Helen Bliss is home for a few days from Philadelphia school.

E. E. Loomis gave an X-ray party for Miss Providence this week.

Miss Anna McLeod gave a dinner Monday night. The guests were Miss Triestale, Miss Jessup, Mr. Thorne, Mr. Neale.

Robert W. Morris, formerly of Pittston, now one of the valued employees of the New York City News Bureau, has been elected librarian of the New York City Press club.

W. H. Winder, of Philadelphia, is a guest of his brother, Dr. W. C. Winder, of the Lackawanna hospital, resident staff. Mr. Winder was one of the spectators at yesterday's game at Athletic park.

Miss Pennybacker gave a dinner tea in honor of Miss Marie Throckmold on Tuesday. Among those present were Mrs. Throckmold, Misses Alice, Helen and Louise Matthews, Amanda Jessup, Helen Hall, Gertrude Sprague, Julian Goodrich, Annie Watson, Edith Hill, Miss Kingsbury, Evelyn Gilmore, Eleanor Reynolds, Emma Handley, Elizabeth Winton, Augusta Archibald.

CONFERRING OF DEGREES.

Many Knights of Columbus Were at Binghamton Yesterday.

A very large number of Knights of Columbus were in Binghamton yesterday, where an important event among the knights occurred in the exemplification of the entire four degrees of the order. This is the first time in its history that this has occurred and also the initial time that the fourth degree is conferred at a district meeting.

Over one thousand knights were present, among whom there were some of the most foremost men of the order. The working of the degree began at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and the first was conferred by the following officers: Richard J. Burke, grand knight of the Scranton council; John T. Gorman, deputy grand knight of the Binghamton council; Rev. P. E. Broderick, of Susquehanna; Chas. A. Landy of Elmira; and John T. Griffin, of Jamestown.

The second degree was also to be conferred in the morning, and in the afternoon 150 candidates presented themselves for the fourth degree. In the concluding night session Dr. John C. Coyne, New York's district deputy, and Charles R. Barnes of Rochester, N. Y., state warden, conferred the third degree.

ADVERTISING BOND ISSUE.

Sealed Proposals Must Be in by Dec. 3.

City Clerk Lavelle yesterday advertised for sealed proposals for the issue of $125,000 worth of sewer bonds. The advertisement provides that all bids must be in by December 6; that they must be unconditional and accompanied by a certified check in the sum of $5,000.

This gives only one week to bid, which is very short and it is doubtful whether many proposals will be received. The resolution was signed by Mayor Moir on Nov. 13, but was not received by the city clerk until yesterday.

Spend Your Evenings Profitably.

Young men and women who are employed during the day should qualify themselves to earn larger salaries by spending their evenings at the Scranton Business College night school.

WAS IN WAYNE COUNTY.

Drummer Evangelist Assisted at Special Revival Meetings.

The drummer evangelist, Rev. W. H. Williams, came in last night from Wayne county, where he has been assisting Rev. S. G. Haas, pastor of the Wayne circuit of the Evangelical church, in special revival meetings. Mr. Williams reports very large congregations. Wednesday night at Greenwood chapel the altar was crowded and many rose in the congregation and requested prayers. Mr. Williams says the two saloons of Jefferson township in Lackawanna county are not needed, and that the Anti-Saloon league stands ready to assist the people in a remonstrance against the granting of license to them next spring.

Mr. Williams gives his noted lecture, "The Last Rump with the Tiger," in the Baptist church, at Elmira, to-night at 7:30 o'clock. His appointments for next Sabbath are as follows: 10:30 a. m., Baptist church, Dunmore, subject, "The Young Man and His Company"; 8:45 p. m., city Young Men's Christian association, subject, "Breaking Home Ties"; 7:30 p. m., union temperance meeting, Factoryville, subject, "The Last Rump with the Tiger."

Monday night, December 3, Nicholson's subject, "Breaking Home Ties," at which time he hopes to perfect the organization of the Anti-Saloon league and assist in the passage of an ordinance for the suppression of the illegal sale of intoxicating drinks. Mrs. Williams will visit her husband at Dunmore, Factoryville and Nicholson.

BOY WAS USING HIS FATHER'S GUN

One of the Barrels Burst and He Was Almost Instantly Killed While Rabbit Hunting.

Milo Bailey, a fourteen-year-old lad, residing in Clark's Summit, was killed yesterday afternoon by the accidental bursting of a gun. The boy, who is doing some carpenter work, and his mother was in Stroudsburg, spending Thanksgiving with relatives.

He started out on a hunting expedition with a number of boy companions, taking with him a new double-barreled shotgun, which his father had recently presented him with. They were about a mile outside the town when a rabbit was espied and Milo, having the best gun, was allowed to take first shot.

He aimed carefully, but when he pulled the trigger the gun exploded and the breech pin struck him fairly in the forehead with terrific force, rendering him unconscious and fracturing the skull. He lived but about five minutes, passing away before any of his panic-stricken companions realized the seriousness of the situation.

TWENTY-THIRD RECITAL.

Conservatory Pupils Entertained Friends in Guernsey Hall.

The twenty-third public recital of the Conservatory of Music last evening, in Guernsey hall, proved to be one of the most interesting ever given by that institution. The work of the school was splendidly demonstrated in piano solos and ensemble playing.

The soloists were the Misses Mattie Kline, Nellie Schlager, Genevieve Ehrhard, Ethel Bevan, Norma Johns, Anna Voris, Grace Browning, Grace Gerlock, Emma Bone, Anna Browning and Mr. Wilkins. All of the solo numbers, many of which were very difficult, were played from memory, and exhibited ample technique, expression and the most careful use of the pedal. Special mention should be made of the playing of Norma Johns and Grace Browning, who, for children of their age, do remarkable work.

It is not surprising that special interest was manifested by the large audience in the children's classes, which exhibited the results of a few months with beginners under the Faellert method. Pieces were charmingly played by children of from six to nine years of age at four pianos, in perfect time, and all from memory. Of this number was tiny little Margery Christian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Christian, who is the youngest child in the school.

Other classes further showed the admirable training from the real musical standpoint by playing pieces from memory and then re-playing them in any keys asked for by the audience.

An interesting feature which showed that this knowledge was not confined to those who were at the keyboards was the recitation in concert of the degrees of the different minor scales demanded by the audience by a large number of young students who sat near the platform. To be able to do this, those who played and those who recited had been obliged to learn to instantly transpose their pieces into any of the fifteen minor keys and play them at the same time from memory.

The ensemble work at four pianos by eight players is always a part of these recitals which is thoroughly enjoyed. The selections performed were the overture to "Prometheus," by Beethoven, and the overture to "Cosi Fan Tutti," by Mozart.

Two of the members of the faculty, Miss French and Mr. Hufnaster, gave a delightful rendition of the Variations in B flat, by Schubert, arranged for two pianos by Mueller-Reuter. There were, in all, fifty-three students who participated in this recital.

A GIRL KIDNAPPED.

Police Asked to Look Out for Margaret Kelly, of Miner's Mills.

The police were, late Wednesday night, asked to be on the look-out for 13-year-old Margaret Kelly, of Miner's Mills, who is supposed to have been kidnapped. It is believed that the girl was taken to Cleveland, O., by some person or persons in the employ of her aunt, who has an insurance policy on the life of Mrs. Kelly, the girl's mother, who recently died.

The girl is the beneficiary, and it is contended that the aunt wants to collect the money on this. The girl was called by the public school on Wednesday afternoon by a note purporting to come from Rev. Father Kiernan, of Parsons, but which he disclaims all knowledge of. She was last seen in the company of two strange men.

No trace of her, however, has since been discovered.

Pigeon Shooting Accident.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Wyck-Harris, Pa., Nov. 29.—Thomas Williams, aged 44, of Wyoming, a small village near here was on his way to a pigeon shooting match this morning, slipped and fell in some brushwood. His gun was discharged, the load entering his groin. He was taken in a dying condition to the hospital.

THANKSGIVING
DAY BRIDES

MISS COONS WEDDED TO GEORGE P. THOMAS.

Peter J. Lewis, of Providence, R. I., and Miss Lenora E. Schall, of South Main Avenue, United by Rev. Thomas DeGruchy, D. D. Miss Caroline Roos and Daniel Jacobs Wedded at the Bride's Home—Biesecker-Hunt Nuptials at Bald Mount.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Coons, 133 South Sumner avenue, when their eldest daughter, Harriet Olive Coons, was united in marriage to George P. Thomas, of Pittsburg, superintendent of the Carling Locomotive works. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. P. Moffat, D. D., of the Washington Street Presbyterian church, in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends of the family.

The wedding march was cleverly executed by Miss Ethel Bevan. The bride was tastefully gowned in a tailor-made suit of gray. Captain Coons carried a bouquet of bridal roses. After congratulations were extended, the guests were served with luncheon, and at 8 o'clock in the evening the bride and groom left for Pittsburg, where they will permanently reside.

Those in attendance at the wedding were: Mrs. George Fields, of New York; Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Moffat, of New York; G. L. Fields, Mrs. Ethel Pease and daughter Freda, Mrs. Emma Coons, daughter Anna and son Gus, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Coons, Mrs. Ella Ringler and sons Fred and Stanton, A. E. Scholl, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Mears, Millie and Calvin Coons, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Washburn and son Parker, Mr. and Mrs. William Chandler and children, William and Sarah, Mrs. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Battenberg, Mrs. Ruth Peck, Mrs. Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Coons and children, Clarence, Alice and Floyd, Edward Morse, Judson Hutchinson, Philadelphia; Norwood and Charles Pitcher, Ethel and Grace Peck, Nettie Davis, Edna Stevens, Ruth Beddoe and Jessie Kellow.

JACOBS-ROOS.

Miss Caroline Roos, the daughter of Samuel Roos, the well known Pine Street merchant, was yesterday afternoon joined in marriage to Daniel Jacobs, a central city livy, by Rev. J. P. Moffat, a central city livy. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents at 521 Pine Street and was solemnized by Rev. A. S. Auspacher, of the Linden street synagogue.

It was performed in the parlor of the residence, which was handsomely decorated by Florist McClintock. Music was furnished by Llewellyn Jones at the piano, and Leo and Emil Roos, two brothers of the bride, mandolin and guitar players.

When the bridal procession entered the room in the presence of the large number of relatives, who were in attendance, Mendelssohn's wedding march was played with fine effect. The groom was escorted by his brother, Nathan Jacobs, and his sister, a sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor.

The former was attired in a becoming white silk gown, finished in fine old lace, and a cluster of brilliant sparkles on her breast. She carried a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums and also her sister, who was likewise attired in a well fitting gown of white silk.

During the progress of the ceremony selections were played from "Cavalleria Rusticana" and as a recessional the joyous tones of the Lohengrin wedding march were sounded.

A generous bridal dinner was then served and during the night a general time of social enjoyment was spent. At 12 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs left the city via the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, for the west where they will spend an extended bridal tour and on their return will begin housekeeping at 525 Pine Street, next door to the home of Mrs. Jacobs' parents. Mr. Jacobs is well known in the city and everywhere enjoys the reputation of an enterprising and progressive young business man, while his wife is universally esteemed for her many charms of person and character and is a general favorite in her circle of acquaintances.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Katz, Mrs. Jacobs and daughter, Bona, of Lonsdale; Mrs. Shap and daughter, Miss Lena Strauss of Binghamton; N. Y. H. Bauman of New York city.

LEWIS-SCHALL.

Another wedding occurred at 8 o'clock last evening, when Peter J. Lewis, of Providence, Rhode Island, and Miss Lenora E. Schall, of 102 South Main Avenue, were united by Rev. Thomas DeGruchy, D. D., of the Jackson Street Baptist church. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob N. Schall. The bride was dressed in dove grey broadcloth, with white satin, velvet and gold braid trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white and pink chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid was Miss Bessie Schall, a sister of the bride. She wore a costume of dark blue Posing with white satin trimmings, and carried pink chrysanthemums.

The groomsmen were William Schall, a cousin of the bride, Miss Mary Cunningham played the piano, and the ushers were David Schall, of Pittston, and Walter Roberts, of Harvey's lake. The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. David Carlton, Mr. Peacock, Albert Carlton, Sterling, Mrs. Worden, Factoryville; David Schall, Hardin, Arch Kitchen, Harding.

A reception and supper followed the ceremony, and the guests were entertained during the evening. The groom was formerly employed in the Dickinson works, but is now identified with the "Iron Works" at Providence. The young couple will leave on Saturday for the east, where they will reside.

HUNT-BIESECKER.

At high noon yesterday the marriage services were solemnized which united Bessie Hunt, of Clark's Summit, and Miss Mary Belle Biesecker, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Biesecker, of Bald Mount. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents and was in charge of Rev. Abel Wrigley, of Bald Mount, and Rev. Reynolds, of Clark's Summit.

As the bridal party entered the parlor where the nuptial knot was to be tied Miss Corinne Biesecker, a cousin of the bride, played the Lohengrin march, and as the piano sounded the joyous notes the bride and groom advanced to the center of the room, which was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and other rich autumnal plants.

They were attended by Miss Eleanor Biesecker, who carried a large and handsome bouquet. They were preceded by the ushers, Webb Swallow, of Clark's Summit, and Jacobus, of Corning; P. J. Arthur Biesecker, John Shelly, Joel Shelly, William Biesecker and Fordham Wrigley, of Bald Mount. At the close of the ceremony a bridal dinner was served. The bride was dressed in a handsome, perfectly-fitting gown colored green, with Duchesse lace and applique trimmings, which showed to advantage her splendid figure.

Mr. Hunt is well known in this city, where he is employed as a bookkeeper by J. D. Williams & Co. Mrs. Hunt is a charming young lady of marked individuality, who has numerous graces. The young couple have begun housekeeping on Harrison avenue, this city.

DUFFY-KEELEY.

Owen Duffy, of Edinburg, Wayne county, and Miss Mary Keeley, of 264 Railroad avenue, were united in marriage at Holy Cross church yesterday afternoon by Rev. W. P. O'Donnell. The bride was attended by her sister, and the groomsmen were John J. Murray, of North Scranton.

Both ladies were becomingly attired and carried flowers. The wedding party enjoyed a drive, and were later entertained at the home of the bride's parents. They will reside in Wayne county.

CANT BE GOVERNED
IN THE SAME WAY

Councilman Keller's Ideas About a Second Class City, After a Visit to Pittsburg.

Common Councilman Luther Keller, of the Seventeenth ward, has returned from Pittsburg, where he served as a juror in the United States court, and he has returned not at all pleased with the prospect of Scranton entering the same class as that city and a similar form of municipal government.

"I was surprised," said he in a conversation with the Tribune, "to find that I had never been in the city long enough on previous occasions to get any conception of the remarkable industrial development of this metropolis of the western part of the state. Why Pittsburg is one of the wealthiest cities in the United States."

"Her steel mills, her iron foundries, and her other industries stretch along the Ohio and Monongahela rivers for miles. She has a large railroad center and the tonnage of the freight shipped from her depots and wharves is said to be the highest of any city in the world."

"Just think of this for a minute and then think of Scranton adopting the same system of municipal government. Remember, too, that Pittsburg is 200 years old and that Scranton is but forty and that the interest on her city debt is about as much as the entire annual budget of this city."

"If I admit that I haven't given the second class city law a very careful consideration, but I maintain that any sane man, without any knowledge whatever of the laws governing cities of the second class, if he studied the conditions existing in these cities carefully, and then thought to my mind, is impossible. I hope I'm wrong and that some such law can be devised, but I'm afraid I'm right."

"The laws now governing Pittsburg and Allegheny were adapted to the needs of these two cities and these two cities alone. They find now that the system provided by them is cumbersome and expensive. If it is cumbersome and expensive for these two cities, what will it be to Scranton?"

"I think perhaps the best solution of the difficulty which I have heard comes from School Controller Jennings, with whom I was talking today. He suggests having an amendment to the third class city law passed by the legislature providing that cities of the third class shall be those having a population under 125,000, instead of 100,000, as at present."

"This would enable us to continue under the present system, which, had it been a second class city law, is better than a second class city law which is adapted to the needs of a city three times as large as Scranton and twenty times as wealthy."

EUCHE and SOCIAL.

Given by the Excelsior Social Club in Its Rooms.

The cozy club house of the Excelsior Social Club, on Washington avenue, was last night the scene of one of that organization's social affairs. It was a Thanksgiving euche and social, and a large number of guests were present and spent a thoroughly enjoyable time.

MOTIVE NOT A SELFISH ONE

MEMBERS OF SCHOOL BOARD CORRECT AN IMPRESSION.

They Contend That the Special Committee Just Appointed Is to Look After the Interests of the Scranton School District Rather Than After Interests of Board of Twenty-one. Mr. Jennings Points Out What the Committee Can Accomplish by Making a Serious Effort.

The special committee of the board of control which is to recommend the passage of such legislation as may be necessary for the Scranton school district under the second class city classification, has now been appointed and the members expect to get right down to business at once.

President Jayne has announced the personnel of the committee. He himself will act as chairman and the other members are as follows: W. A. May, T. J. Jennings, Jacob Schaeffer, A. B. Bynon and A. L. Francols. This is a thoroughly representative committee, and it has a deal of work ahead of it, which calls for careful and intelligent thought.

The members who were most active in securing the passage of the resolution providing for the appointment of the committee are especially desirous of having it announced that there is no selfish motive behind the movement. In other words, the committee was not appointed with the object of furthering the interests of the present board of twenty-one, but rather with the view of securing the passage of legislation necessary when this city becomes a city of the second class.

MR. JENNINGS' VIEWS.
Mr. Jennings, who is one of the members of the committee, gave a brief and apt summary of the work which could be accomplished by such a body to a Tribune man yesterday afternoon.

"The only general act," said he, "governing school districts in cities of the second class is the act of 1885, and this has been declared null and void by the Supreme court and no school district can operate under it. It may be that the Supreme court might reverse its ruling declaring the act unconstitutional, but until this is done, and I don't think it ever will be done, the act is inoperative."

"It will be necessary for Scranton to have some kind of legislation adopted for its use. Pittsburg and Allegheny have old special acts under which they are operating and they do not need to pay any attention to the act of 1885. But these old acts are cumbersome and complicated and the necessity for a new general law is becoming more apparent every day."

"If Pittsburg and Allegheny are going to agree upon an act governing school districts in cities of the second class it behooves Scranton to get into the deal, to use an expression of the street. Scranton should have some say and that's just where this committee can do good work."

"This committee can send a man down to Pittsburg to confer with those who are preparing an act down there, if such an act is being prepared. He could act under the direction of the committee and make such suggestions as the committee would in its wisdom recommend."

AN ALTERNATIVE.
"If the people down in Pittsburg or Allegheny would refuse to consider Scranton's claims then this committee could get up an act of its own and do lobbying on its own hook in Harrisburg to secure its passage or to see that Scranton is considered in any legislation being passed. This city can't afford to sit idly by and allow other cities to say what laws shall govern cities of the second class."

"This committee wasn't formed to look after the interests of the present board of twenty-one and see that it is kept in power. That impression has got out, but it is an erroneous one. This committee was formed solely to look after the interests of the Scranton school district. We don't care whether it's a board of twenty-one or a board of fifteen, so long as Scranton gets a fair shake."

"The resolution providing for the appointment of the committee gives it practically unlimited power. It provides that it shall 'have power to act for the board in consultation or otherwise.' These last two words cover pretty nearly everything that one could imagine."

"Until some new act providing for a system of government for school districts in cities of the second class is passed or until the supreme court reverses itself and declares the act of 1885 to be constitutional the present system will continue in operation and there are some members of the board, including President Jayne, who are of the opinion that it will continue for many years to come."
